

Final Computer Assignment

Write a program that, given a frequency table for characters, constructs an optimal Huffman code. I should be able to input up to 8 characters and their frequencies (you decide how you want me to input this, but make it clear!). You should output the binary strings associated to each symbol. Make sure you have a way to handle ties!

This program is due by 5 PM, Friday December 7.